Solon Would Have Sent U.S. Troops to Cuba

Jack Solon, Fla. (UPI) — Rep. Charles Bennett, D-Fla., said Cuba would have been a much better place for the United States to take a firm stand than Berlin.

Bennett, vice chairman of the House Committee on the Central Intelligence Agency, said the United States should have sent two and possibly three American divisions to aid the Cuban invasion. He said it was folly to think that Cuban refugees in this country could wrest control of Cuba from Premier Fidel Castro.
